

Farewell Gordon

Gordon, you are someone I will never forget. You were so witty, often making up your own words. You had a special sense of humour that made everyone smile. You were a true gentleman. Thank you for being my friend. Rest in peace. Janet xx

Thank you brother Gordon for your sense of humour, wisdom, wit and poetry. I remember the last meeting we done face to face in Park House and your generosity by giving us each bottle of wine. RIP brother and your memory will never die. I am going to miss you. Mustak

We walked a path together. Now I walk alone. Thank you for your company. Missing you already. Fare thee well. Bests, Annie. x

You were definitely a survivor and your comments will be missed. Suresearch meetings will not be the same without you. Mary

Gordon thank you for your wisdom, wit and poetry over the years. We will miss you. Alex and Ann.

There's only one Gordon Parsons. Thanks for your unique contribution. Stephen.

Gordon. Whenever I had a bad day you lifted my mood up with your on the spot witty jokes. You're at peace now. Mohammed

Sorry to lose you. You were such a brilliant contributor to Suresearch. Barbara

Gordon was a special person and he will be greatly missed. He was always ready with a funny and often unusual contribution to any of our meetings. I will miss him on a personal level and remember him with fondness. Maureen

Gordon was a very pleasant and talented gentleman to know. I guess he'll be remembered for his excellent writing. Alice

Gordon you were a true friend and I miss you. Sleep well - never forgotten, from Janie xx

Gordon was a very special character who we all loved. He always lit up the room with his wit and humour. Never afraid to make fun of himself, he always had endless jokes and original views on every subject and was never afraid to express these. Behind it all, there was a wisdom and love which we all appreciated. He helped us not to take things too seriously and get our priorities right. He was always kind and very generous. We shall miss him dearly; in fact, I cannot imagine Suresearch without him. Jo
